

Seat of Wisdom

An Introduction to Philosophy in the Catholic Tradition

Chapter 1 Wisdom and Faith: The Relation Between Reason and Revelation

How does St. Thomas Aquinas view the relationship between faith and reason? Page 21

What is the position that science is the sole source of certain knowledge (Scientism)? Page 22

What is fideism? Page 22

Do all people have a philosophy of the world whether they know it or not? Page 23

What is the meaning of the word philosophy? Page 23

Is wisdom knowing the highest causes of reality or first principles of reality? Page 24.

What is leisure? Page 27

How does Thomas Aquinas define a wise man? Page 28

Does philosophy ask the question why does the world make sense at all? Page 29

Is the world both chaotic and intelligible? Page 30

Is Man's ability to know the world discovered in the study of Epistemology? Page 31.

What is dialectical argument? Page 33.

What are the transcendental properties? Page 34

What is the defining difference between theology and philosophy?
Page 35

What are the preambles to the Faith? Page 37

If philosophy can give us knowledge of God, why do we need revelation? Page 38.

Can the relationship between reason and faith be represented as a pair of overlapping circles? Page 39.

What is faith? Page 41.

What is opinion and how does faith differ from it? Page 42

What is the science of theology? Page 43

What are the differences between philosophy and science? Page 45

Is philosophy the bridge that unites faith and science? Page 46