

Seat of Wisdom

An Introduction to Philosophy in the Catholic Tradition

Chapter 2 Origins of the Perennial Philosophy

Where do the origins of perennial philosophy in the Catholic tradition originate from? Page 52

What happened in the world at around 600 BC with regard to the awakening of thought? Page 53

In order for the world to make sense, what two closely related questions need to be answered? Page 53–54.

Can the world be intelligible if change is the only reality? Page 54

What is the problem of the one and the many? Page 55

How did the early Greek philosophers attempt to answer the question about change? Page 57

How does the Pythagorean school of thought view the problem of change? Page 58

How does the philosopher Heraclitus view the world? Page 59

How does Parmenides view the world? Page 60

Who are the Sophists? Page 62.

How does Socrates argue against relativism? Page 63

Does Plato discover the concept of universal and unchanging truth? Page 65

Does Plato's view of Forms lead to a dualistic vision of reality?

Page 67

How does Aristotle's philosophy differ from that of Plato? Page 68

What is the difference between being and becoming? Page 69

How does Aristotle explain change? Page 70

What are substance and accidents? Page 71

What are the nine different accidental properties? Page 72

What is substantial change? Page 72

What is the theory of hylomorphism? Page 74

What does form give to matter? Page 74.

What is the difference between accidents and essence? Page 76

How do species, genus in specific difference relate to the definition of what a substance is? Page 77.

Why does change happen? Page 77

What are Aristotle's 4 causes? Page 78

What are the efficient and final causes? Page 79

Are the transcendentals grounded in formal causality? Page 80

What is Neoplatonism? Page 80

How did Neoplatonism affect Augustine's journey into Christianity? Page 82–83

How does nominalism and secondary causality relate to each other? Page 86